

REALLY

J. Edgar Hoover says:

As we observe Independence Day, Americans who are prone to shirk their responsibilities to our great Nation might think about these things—to oppressed people who cry out for freedom, the responsibility of preserving it would be a privilege, not an inconvenience.

John Adams said in 1776, about the signing of the Declaration of Independence, "It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance by solemn acts of devotion to Almighty God."

Mr. Adams and his associate didn't anticipate a Supreme Court such as we have, nor men in high-est places who suggest to the American public that we "interpolate" meanings to the Constitution which the Supreme Court hasn't had time to rewrite.

We can and SHOULD continue to celebrate, as an act of our forefather, the FREEDOM they gave us, and continue to battle to retain them!

Join in the effort to have bells RING — RING — RING — on our simulated.

Renewal Boat Licenses Delayed To 8-1
New Boats Given A Temporary Number

The new laws affecting the registration of boats has not been reviewed and certified to the licensing agencies so that regulations may be issued, with the result that the time limit for registration has been deferred August 1st.

Under the new law boats under 12 feet will pay a fee of $1; those 11 feet and over will pay $75. No county personal property tax will be due.

It is estimated that more than 180,000 boats will be registered in Florida, with $250 per boat, when collected, to go to the state for its outdoor recreation program. Part of the slice received by the Counties will be for education.

James W. Armes, director of the Special Program in Education, said.

Glades Bank Resources $39.5 Millions

The three Glades financial institutions have experience a 13% gain in resources during the past year topping $39.5 million, to serve as bankable proof of the substance of Florida's most diversified agricultural area.

The Florida National Bank's resources grew from $6,500,000 to $7,500,000; the Bank of Pahokee from $10,500,000 to $12,500,000, while Everglades Federal Savings went to $19,500,000 from $17,500,000 a year ago.

In face of the fact that long time financing of the volume indulged in by expanding sugar plantings, is with out-of-city institutions to a great degree, the $23.5 million gain by the commercial banks is more significant.

The Everglades Federal is the only Federal savings in south Florida to pay 4 1/2% on savings currently, which in itself, is indicative of the activity of the building industry, and mostly in homes, in the Glades.

Some $5.0 million of the Everglades Federal Savings and Loan received dividend checks on the first amounting to more than $425,000.

Roughly the average savings account of the Everglades Federal is $3,800 and the average loan of the 1,700 borrowers is around $10,000.

The worst told to damage sugarcane coming in the first year's production of the expanded cane was not as disastrous financially as it might have been, judging from the condition of the bank's assets.

Police reports are that Chaney discovered his estranged wife and Rivera talking together in the up-neighbors of the Rutledge Motel, and gave Rivera a punch and his wife a not-too-friendly physical admonition.

Rivera didn't like the physical reprimand and proceeded to lay hands on a 22 with apparent intent to bodily harm Chaney. The first attempt to ventilate Chaney who was facing him with the 22 resulted in a misfire, but either the second thru the fifth got Chaney in the back as he was hot-footing it.

Chaney, it is reported, walked five blocks after the shooting and Rivera thought it wise to give himself up.

Seven teller windows are found on the west end of a spacious lobby, arranged in a flat curve immediately adjoining the Loan Department's quarters.

The bookkeeping department, safety deposit and vault are in the south end of the building, with air conditioning equipment over the vault.

Employees' lounge and rest rooms are also in the rear of the building.

Executive offices and Board Room are between the two entrances.

"We are offering a full banking service to the Community," says President E. B. McDaniel Jr., "and hope to open our doors for business on November 1st. Commercial and installment loans as well as banking-by-mail are among our services."

"Provision for handling banking needs with foreign areas, and especially, South and Central America and the Islands are included in our plans."

The Bank of Belle Glade, chartered this year, has a Paid Capital of $300,000, surplus of $120,000 and undivided profits of $66,000, for a total of $486,000 capital structure.

Both books are synchronized to the summer reader's tempo, with spurts of lively wit, and frequent stinging places, timed for coke breaks, and such.

Shouldn't Smoke Before Age Of 12 Then Wait 'Til 85

Because temptations to smoke cigarettes can confront children as early as in the third and fourth grade school levels, a simple story presenting reasons why it is best not to start smoking is told in a new illustrated booklet called, "Jimmy Beats a Bad Habit."

The booklet was prepared and edited by Margaret W. Hoffman, who has been actively engaged in the schools of Florida lecturing to older students on the harmful effects of cigarettes.

The story itself contains no reference to cancer, the late manifestations of chronic respiratory damage or death. However, an explanatory manual for adults includes abstracts of data on childhood smoking and answers to questions which might be raised by the child upon reading the story.

The booklet is available at no cost. Parents may obtain a copy white sections of telephone directory of "Jimmy Beats a Bad Habit" stories of sixteen key cities from American Cancer Society cated throughout Florida.

Power Gas Takes Over 2nd Place

Tuesday, June 25

South Bay Growers stayed in the running with a 12 to 6 win over Union. This was the 13th straight loss for Union and from the way the team is playing you would think it was their 13th win as the players are trying harder than ever to break into the win column. Union rallied for five big runs in the fifth inning to pull within three runs of Growers only to see the winners pull away in their half of the inning and put the game out of reach.

Power Gas had to come from behind three times to beat Lions in extra innings 11 to 10. Lions played very inspired ball as they have been hurt badly by losses of key personnel via injuries and vacations. The win out Gas in a deadlock for first with Growers and put importance on their meeting Friday night for the league lead.

In one of the tight games of the year Growers put a run across in the last inning to defeat Gas 4 to 3 and take over first place all alone. This marked the first time in several weeks that a team has had complete control of first place by themselves. The game was played on even terms throughout and the big break came for Growers on and over throw at third.

In a game that was called in the second inning due to an injury of a player Union and Lions was all tied up 2-2. Union had put across two runs in the first inning and seemed to be on their way for their win but Lions came up and tied the score in their half of the second inning. The game will be replayed or finished at a later date.

Phelan-Mole Vows Exchanged In Tampa

MRS. WALLACE GRAHAM MOLE, JR.

Miss Nancy Angeline Phelan of Tampa and Wallace Graham Mole, Jr., of Pahokee and Tampa were united in marriage in a double ring, candlelight ceremony held at the Temple Terrace Church of Christ Sunday, June 29, at 7:30 p. m., with Clinton D. Hamilton officiating. The church was decorated with baskets of mixed white flowers and palms for the event.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Herschel Phelan, 2107 W. Sewash St., Tampa, and the bridegroom, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Graham Mole, Sr., 1325 E. Main St., Pahokee.

James Copeland, soloist, sang "O, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

As maid of honor Miss Betty Brown wore Copenhagen blue chiffon over taffeta. Her head-dress was a circlet of matching material with veil and bow, and she wore matching shoes and white gloves. She carried a white wicker basket of white carnations and greenery.

The Misses Sandy Mosley and Janice Saunders, bridesmaids, and Nancy Hamilton, junior bridesmaid, wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor, and their flowers were also the same.

Jan Ehl, flower girl, wore a white dress with matching head-dress, also patterned after that of the maid of honor, and carried a blue wicker basket of rose petals. The ring bearer, Jimmy Moore, was in a short white linen suit and carried a blue pillow.

Irrescent sequins and seed pearls ornamented the chapel train of the bride's gown which was fashioned of silk organdy and Chantilly lace. A crown of pearls and crystals held her veil of silk illusion, and a strand of cultured pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, accented the neckline. She carried a white Bible adorned with white orchids and a white ivory. She was given in marriage by her father.

Kirby Mole of Pahokee served as his brother's best man. David Simmons and Billy Plummer, both of Pahokee, were ushers, and Terry Hamilton of Tampa was junior groomsmen.

Mrs. Phelan chose for her daughter's wedding a Chantilly lace dress of candlelight blue, featuring a satin cummerbund, and Mrs. Mole mother of the bridegroom, wore a light pink chiffon dress with full skirt and matching accessories. Both had white orchid corsages.

Assisting at the reception, given by the bride's parents at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton D. Hamilton, 114 Lockmoor, Temple Terrace, Fla., were Mrs. Clinton D. Hamilton, Mrs. Richard McCray, Mrs. Claude Brown and Miss Sue Brown.

Immediately following the reception an open house was held at the new home of the couple, 4415 Bass St., Tampa.

The bride is a graduate of Chamberlain High School and attended Florida Christian College, where she was a member of Phi Sigma Chi Society. The bridegroom, a graduate of Pahokee High School, also attended Florida Christian College and was a member of Phi Sigma Chi. He is presently completing his college education at the University of South Florida, majoring in accounting.

For the wedding trip to Nassau, B. L. the bride changed to a royal blue suit with white accessories and wore a white orchid corsage.

Juvenile Court Waives Jurisdiction To Crimes In Motor Vehicle Cases

Judge Emory Newell has issued an order waiving the jurisdiction over motor vehicle violations by juveniles to the cities whose laws have been violated.

This, apparently, is a move to tighten the authority of local officers over teenage driving violations.

Local officers have appealed to parents to see that unlicensed underage teenagers do not drive the car unlawfully.

It is known that many parents locally have not only sanctioned this unlawful driving but have bought a personal car for pupils to drive to the local schools, and where else fancy might suggest.

It is hoped that both parents and children will have adjusted themselves to the program of "no valid license, no driving."

Lake Shore Schools Summer Program Enrollment Reach 400

The Summer Educational Enrichment Program enrollment at the Lake Shore Schools Center, sponsored by the Palm Beach County Board of Public Instruction, has reached the 400 mark according to Mrs. Grear, director of the center.

The library has been a source of constant activity during the past two weeks. Films and filmstrips have been shown daily to several hundred children, and a regular phase of the library schedule is story-hour. Approximately 300 books have been read by boys and girls during the opening weeks of the program. A red star reading chart has been started by the librarian to show the number of books read by each student. Debora Ellick, Gary Rolle, Gregory Mizell, Constance Monson, Lucretia Peavy, Recortia Williams and Edith Harris are presently heading the "red star brigade" for having read the greatest number of books.

Driver education students had their first test administered by the local examiner Wednesday, July 3. Mr. Coffey expresses satisfaction in the progress his class is making. Results of the test were not available at press time.

New Cigarette Tax Reports Due July 1

Approximately 130,000 businesses in Florida will begin Wednesday receiving forms from the State Beverage Department that must be completed and returned by July 10, according to Richard B. Keating, Beverage Director.

Although the form is devised for cigarette distributors, every business reporting a sales tax will receive the form and is required to fill out portions of it and return it to Tallahassee. Only a few days remain before the July 1 deadline when every cigarette retailer must inventory his cigarette stock prior to the start of the day's business, Keating said.

On completion of the inventory or before July 10, the law requires that an additional tax of three cents per package for each package of cigarettes on hand before the start of business July 1 be remitted to the State Beverage Department in Tallahassee.

Any business failing to remit the additional tax due will be subject to penalties provided in Section 210.14, Florida Statutes, which permits the Beverage Director to issue a warrant directed to any sheriff to levy upon and sell the goods and chattels of delinquent persons.

Charles Thompson, Micky McKee, Ron Halbrook and John Causey left this week to attend Boys State.

Enrollment at the University of Florida is expected to reach the 20,000 mark in 1975. The present figure is almost 14,000 students.

Ocean Research Being Advanced By Cong. Rogers

Congressman Paul Rogers of West Palm Beach has introduced legislation in the House to direct greater research programs such as the ocean's depths. One feature of the Rogers bill involves anti-submarine warfare.

Rogers, a member of the House Oceanography Subcommittee, and the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee as well, predicts favorable action on his bill. Both committees have jurisdiction on this legislation. Rogers said that the establish- ment of research programs such as he has proposed would provide vital information for naval warfare, and would be of par- ticular importance to anti-sub- marine warfare.

The U. S. Navy has advocated research in the field of ocean- ography, and cites the fact that increased knowledge of the ocean would allow improved de- tection of submarines, and bet- ter defensive weapons systems as well. The Navy also says such research would be import- ant to the perfection and op- eration of the POLARIS missile program.

However, the purposes of Con- gressman Rogers' bill would be accomplished through re- search conducted not only by the U. S. Navy, but the National Academy of Sciences, the De- partment of Interior, and the nation's many colleges and uni- versities as well.

It is anticipated that the new Florida Atlantic University at Boca Raton would be vitally interested in the subject of oceanography.

No Praying - No Supreme Court!

There's no evidence that the parties indulged in reading the Bible or praying — so the Su- preme Court can't bother them for that.

There is substantial evidence that they were engaged in inter- state commerce — maybe pol- itics of the US Supreme Court will find occasion to interfere with officers for stifling inter- state commerce.

Anyhow, a "slapping job of detecting" was turned by op- eratives of the State Beverage Department in lining up and se- curing evidence on a "shine" op- eration from Gargia to Miami re- cently.

Richard B. Keating, State Be- verage Director says, "ar- rests of persons involved may reach the 40's or 50's when the roundup is complete. By late Saturday, officers had arrested 22 persons in the Jacksonville area alone and were in the pro- cess of seizing 20 automobiles that had been used in the illegal operation."

Other state and Federal officers armed with warrants were attempting to locate several other persons and automobiles Sat- urday night in Miami and part of Georgia.

Keating said the bootlegger were distributing approximately 2,000 gallons of illegal whiskey through Florida each week and noted that several other crimes including narcotic law violation and larceny were involved.

The overall investigation, de- scribed as the largest statewide distribution system in the state's recent history, was spearhead- ed by W. V. Eddy, Statewide In- vestigator of Jacksonville.

B. H. "Satch" Jones, agent of Daytona Beach, obtained his first job of transporting moon- shine whiskey in Miami and within a few weeks was intro- duced to Leo John Journey, 40 of St. George, Georgia, who was known to the Beverage Depart- ment as a major violator. With- in a short time, Jones had work- ed his way to number 2 man in the gang, second only to Lour- ciey.

In the weeks to follow, Jones assisted in the manufacture of moonshine stills, distilled white- key and distributed thousands of gallons of illegal shine around Florida. After a safe period had passed for the time the still was constructed, Jones would notify other agents and the still would be destroyed. The same proce- dure was used on quantities of whiskey being moved. As a re- sult, the Department destroyed six distilleries and 1,500 gallons of whiskey, made seven arrests and seized ten automobiles prior to closing down the operation.

To obtain additional testimony when the cases reach court, Eddy worked three other agents into the operation. They were Buddy Fugate of Jacksonville, Frank Rooks of Marianna, and Jim Hawkins of Tampa.

Rooks worked only a short time before he was apprehended one night by a patrolman while transporting 235 gallons of shine. Unable to disclose his identity Rooks spent the night in Duval County Jail and bond was posted for his release the following day by one of the bootleggers. Jones's security in the gang was threatened on several oc- casions but he managed to re- main in good standing. On one occasion a small electronic trans- mitter he had concealed on his person to permit other agents to follow his activity became de- tached and he was nearly ex- posed while working with the violators. The undercover agent grabbed the piece of equipment held it to his leg and claimed he was suffering from a cramp while he away a safe distance and cor- rected the problem. He was ex- posed as a beverage agent on another occasion but managed to bluff the man who made a charge. The officer escaped ar- rest once while transporting a truckload of sugar to be used in the manufacture of shine, but managed to break away from the truck and run eight miles through a swamp in Nassau County.

Keating said the investigation will continue with many arrests being made of persons who are connected with the operation.

Most of those arrested were pecked up on Federal warrants served by agents of the Federal Alcohol and Toba- co Tax Division, Beverage agent Duval County Deputies, and Jacksonville policemen.

Wildlife Management Areas receiving this name supervision are the Everglades Wildlife Conservation Area Number 2 and 3, located in Dade, Broward and Palm Beach Counties and the J. W. Corbett Wildlife Man- agement Area located in Palm Beach County.

WHO IS THE BOSS?

The Palm Beach County Classroom Teachers have for years been an organization that advanced its ideas and desires to the County School Board and the public through its own membership.

Recently it was decided that a professional Secretary or Manager should be employed, and that dues should be raised to meet the expenses.

A "hot-shot" from Miami was employed and the dues raised from $4 to $10.

The new employee immediately commences acting like a "walking delegee," and telling the County Board how to run the county's school business.

Wouldn't it be more economical to not select a new County Superintendent and save his salary? Would it be good business to eliminate the County School Board, their salaries and expenses and let the "Delegee" from the Big City just run it all?

This situation calls for some real thinking on the part of our classroom teachers, for education now gets about 70 percent of our tax money. Do we have to hire a "delegee" from out of town to tell us just how, when and on whom to spend that money?

We suggest that the School Board examine its prerogatives, privileges and duties, and if it's going to allow "mouth-pieces" to tell it what to do, then resign and devote your respective energies to banking, real estate, horse-donoring, or whatever else you hold out as professions.

Our school children are the "goats" with the voter and taxpayer footing the bill.

"Much Too Slowly"

The Washington (D.C.) Daily News recently ran a brief editorial entitled "One Place We're Behind." And we're behind, in this connection, is Russia and the Russians.

The News says: "And how goes featherbedding behind the Iron Curtain?"

"For the answer, we quote from testimony just given the House Un-American Activities Committee by John Santo, former American Communist who spent seven years in high government position in Red Hungary."

"There was no featherbedding of any kind. As a matter of fact, the idea that people should get paid for work not done or for unnecessary work would be considered an insult."

"Here's one place, for sure, the Reds are ahead of us. Featherbedding, which adds unnecessarily to the costs of goods and services all of us must buy and which makes American products less competitive in world markets, is an income idea. It gradually being eliminated from the American scene, but slowly. Much too slowly."

There, in terse terms, is the whole sad and vital story.

War-Mongering Imperialists

Are you aware that the long-respected Boy Scout organization is turning American youngsters into hostile, war-mongering imperialists? And that every boy who is forced into the Scouts is trained to be a master of all forms of espionage, violence and germ warfare?

If you aren't aware of this, you haven't been keeping up on your reading. For that is what the principal Soviet newspaper, Pravda, has told the Russian people. And Pravda—such means, of all things, Truth—is practically required reading in Russia. That isn't all. It seems, Pravda continues, that younger boys are forced into the Cub Scouts, where their preparation begins for future foul deeds. Even this doesn't end the tale. For there is a sister group known as the Girl Scouts. These girls, reports Pravda, are unpaid door-to-door cookie vendors and the revenues they obtain "... go directly to the Wall Street master minds of the entire plot."

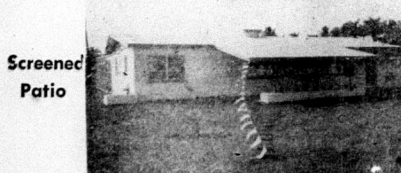

It is difficult for an American to believe, but the Soviet people are fed lies of this character year after year. It is a process of brainwashing. This is a fact.

Here is the reason why such strenuous effort is given to possible ways to reach the Soviet people with western beamed radio broadcasts and by such other means as may come to hand. This is a slow process. But, in time, drops of water wear away stone.

Taxes

Summary of changes made by the 1963 Legislature in expanding the 3 percent sales and use tax and other revenue sources was announced today by J. Ed Straughn, director of the Florida Revenue Commission. The Commission and the tax changes are effective July 1.

Repairs

Straughn said there have been misconceptions relative to the application of sales and use tax on repairs to tangible personal property. A tax was applied to labor performed in the repairs, installation and maintenance of tangible personal property, not real property, he explained.

Repairmen-dealers are required by the amended law to collect and remit tax on the total selling price, which now includes both parts and labor.

Rentals

The period of tax coverage was extended from 6 to 12 months for a tenant staying at any one hotel, motel, apartment house, rooming house, tourist or trailer camp.

Straughn said there were two limitations provided. One states that any person who, on the effective date of the act, shall have resided continuously for six months at any one place shall be deemed to qualify for the exemption set forth in the act, so long as that person shall continue to reside at the same place.

The other limitation provides that no tax shall be imposed on rooms provided guests where there is no consideration involved between the guest and the public lodging establishment.

Amusements

In the area of admissions, the law was expanded to include visitors or participants in all types of amusement, sport or recreation, show, game or exhibition, including green fees and dues paid to private clubs providing recreational facilities. Such facilities shall include, but not be limited to golf, tennis, swimming, yachting and boating facilities.

Civic, fraternal and religious clubs and organizations are excluded from this provision.

Athletic Events

On or after December 26, 1963, the tax will be imposed

Gasoline - Fuels

A three percent tax was imposed on gasoline and other fuels sold in Florida for use by mechanical devices and railroads. The tax shall be prorated based on mileage traveled in Florida to total mileage traveled where used by motor vehicles in interstate and foreign commerce. Motor trucks already pay the 7c tax on gasoline and diesel fuel.

School Books

School books used in junior colleges and institutions of higher learning were brought under the tax.

Trucking - Travel

A three percent tax, subject to proration based on mileage on all vehicles and parts thereof used in Florida by interstate common carriers, and subject to a $3,000 limitation, was approved. It applies to airlines, railroads and trucking concerns. All other purchases, however, are fully taxable.

Fishing - Hunting

A five percent tax was placed at the wholesale level on all fishing, hunting, camping, swimming and diving equipment, unless specifically exempted. This means that retail dealers who cannot show the tax has been paid to a registered wholesale dealer are required to accrue the tax at retailer's cost and pay it directly to the state.

Time Limit

Retail store operators face a stiffer penalty if they are delinquent in obtaining licenses. The Revenue Commission is authorized to collect in addition to the amount of tax due, a penalty of two dollars and fifty cents for the period of delinquency occurring in the first three months of the license year, and an additional two dollars and fifty cents for each additional three months period, or fraction, of delinquency thereafter.

Refunds

The Legislature extended the period to file application for a refund from 18 months to three years from the date the payment is made into the state treasury.

Bugs In Your Garden? Don't Mistreat Em - Do Murder!

By Hervey Sharpe

Agricultural Extension Service

Bugs in your rose garden are like unwelcome guests — both have brought along a summer-long ravenous appetite. Rudeness may chase away free-loading humans, but not insects.

The little varmits are sneaky rascals. The moment you turn your back, they're apt to zip out from a nearby host plant and begin marching on the best rose in the garden.

Not only do insects chomp away at the plants, but worst of all they eat the pride out of a gardener's prestige. To protect that pride you've got to conquer a horde of creatures with chewing, sucking, piercing or rasping mouth parts.

The worst foes of roses are thrips, mites (red spider) and aphids.

Young thrips are yellowish, minute, slender creatures. A mature wisp of a thrip is about 1/40 inch long. The little pests feed by rasping the plant surface, then sucking the sap as it oozes from the wound.

Often thrips fly to roses in huge numbers from nearby plants. During flowering periods it is a good idea to dust the blooms with either malathion or chlordane.

Aphids are a menace to tender rose shoots and buds because of their rapid reproduction rate.

Incidentally, don't blame gentlemen aphids for the damage. It's a fact that flippant females often reproduce generation after generation without any males around. Regardless of sex, the aphids feed by sucking the sap from the tender plants causing the plant to become deformed.

Nature may take a hand in controlling aphids. If you look at an army of aphids, you may spot a friend, the syrphid fly larva, deflating the juice from an aphid larva at the rate of one a minute. The braconid wasp can deal a death blow to hundreds of aphids by laying its eggs inside the aphid.

If you don't have the patience to wait out the battle of nature, then try a malathion spray.

Mites or red spider are six-legged crawlers no more than 1/50 inch long. Often there is quite a build-up of damage dealing spiders before you notice that the rose leaves take on an off-yellow color.

A hand lens is needed to discover mites. You'll find some mites are whitish and virtually colorless. Others may be tan, reddish or purple.

There are a number of spray chemicals that will kill mites. Some old stand-by materials include Kelthane, Aramite and Ovictran.

Bagworms are an interesting pest. Numerous sacks or bags dangling from foliage-stripped rose bushes are mute evidence of what happened to the leaves. Handpicking and burning the trash-glued pods will put an end to this leaf-eater.

There are some 19 species of scale insects that attack roses. The most serious are Florida red and cottony cushion scales. Rose scale is a third-rate pest. Most scale insects attach themselves to the rose plant soon after hatching, and rarely move from their feeding site for the rest of their lives. Mealybugs are an exception. They remain mobile throughout life. These "stick-tight" scales lose their legs and antennae with their first molt and become small, round, or pear-shaped outlines. The outer surface may take on a waxy covering, a powdery coat or a cottony finish. They feed by inserting a tiny thread-like beak into the rose plant and sucking out the plant juices.

Methods of controlling scales and other rose insects are not the same in every section of the state. So before applying any insecticide, be sure to chat with your county agricultural agent or your garden supply store manager. They will recommend the best chemical to use and the proper dosage.

Lady Graduates

Hi and College

Invited by Wacs

The Army's "Choice Not Chance" program has a special option for women college seniors who are looking for a promising job after graduation—and for college graduates who have some job experience but want a greater challenge.

If qualified, these women can become commissioned officers in the Women's Army Corps and grade for grade receive the same pay, allowances and other benefits as their male counterparts.

Some of the more tangible benefits accruing to the WAC officer are top-level training in a specialized skill, additional education, development of executive ability, world-wide travel, companionship, 30-day paid vacation each year and salaries equal to or higher than in civilian life.

The young WAC officer is only obligated to serve two years on her initial contract. She can marry at any time and remain in the service or elect to resign her commission in favor of raising a family. The various jobs that WAC officers do within the framework of the Army are the counterparts of executive jobs spread throughout scores of civilian organizations. Many times, the skills learned in the Army prepare the WAC officer for highly paid executive jobs in civilian life.

For additional information and answers to such questions as "Will I be able to use my college training?", "What about regimentation?", "Living conditions" or any other of a dozen questions—see your local Army recruiter who will arrange a personal interview with a WAC procurement officer.
